

10/803,217

1 -SPECIFICATION AMENDMENT-

2
3 At page 3 line 15
4 IDC-A1,AMD

5 FIGURE 12 is a perspective view of a variant of the handles of this invention. closeup
6 view of the closure for a purse/pocketbook shown in Figure 10.

7 At page 6 line 2
8 IDC-A2,AMD

9 While the discussion and drawings have shown a square cornered pocketbook, which 10 would be a rectangle or square, the device is not so limited. FIGURE 10 illustrates a variant on 11 the shape, namely round. If desired the spindle opening 16 can be painted a contrasting color or 12 black or left such that the substrate surface shows through, as may be desired. FIGURE 12
13 illustrates a closeup of the closure of the purse shown in FIGURE 10. See designator 54.

14 At page 6 line 5
15 IDC-A3,AMD

16 FIGURE 12 14 illustrates the fact that the two handles can be made adjustable in size by
17 using conventional buckles adapted for that purpose. Thus the woman can have a short or long-
18 handled pocketbook as may be desired. The adjustable straps are designated 35A and 37A
19 respectively.